

Kidsbridge Early Childhood Anti-Bullying Program – Comments from First and Second Grade Teachers

“I thought the stations were very age appropriate. It really reinforced what the kids are learning in school.”

“Today was very engaging for our students. They enjoyed the role playing with the puppets. The interactive activities with the other ‘props’ was a big hit as well. They will remember this trip for a long time.”

“The children gained so much more from the experiences and stations. They can walk away with the knowledge that many of the things we already do can be reinforced to do better. It all appealed to our students; the Tolerance Center is colorful and fun, and the puppets are great for kids our age. Our students ALL participated, which was great to see.”

“The Diversity Dolls were awesome! Our kids really enjoyed manipulating them and role playing. The scenarios presented were appropriate for their development and reflected very real issues or situations that they might encounter in their lives.”

“The timing of the stations was perfect. They were not too long, and gave them a chance to settle in to the new activity -- kept their attention nicely.”

“Even though they each wanted their chance to play with the dolls, I was pleased to see how they still enjoyed being there and watching while their classmates took their turn.”

“The students were so excited to visit Kidsbridge. We talked to them about where we were going and what was planned in advance of the big day. We arrived to a colorful space, and the facilitators were really great with the kids. What a wonderful day!”

“We had a great time! I hope we can come back again with our students every year.”
